

Are you choosing abortion because you feel like you have no other choice?
That's not right.

Is someone pressuring you to have an abortion?

No one can force you to have an abortion, even if you are a minor.

Your parents cannot force you to have an abortion against your will.

Your boyfriend cannot force you either.

It's your choice.

You have the right to make this important decision without coercion from others.

If someone is forcing you to have an abortion, seek legal help:

KNOW BEFORE ABORTION

PATIENT'S RIGHTS CHECKLIST

You have the right to:

- To talk beforehand to the doctor performing or prescribing your abortion.
- To a full and accurate description of the abortion procedure you are about to undergo.
- To know all the potential risks and complications of the abortion procedure/prescription – i.e. bleeding, pain, perforation, and other side-effects.
- To know information about the doctor performing the abortion - i.e. current license, hospital privileges, history of malpractice claims or suspended license.
- To be treated with dignity in a safe and sanitary environment.
- To obtain a second opinion.
- To ask questions and to change your mind, even at the last minute.
- To get a copy of your medical records.
- To ask what hospital you would be sent to if a complication arises.
- To confidentiality and privacy.

Whatever you decide,
